

Emery Oleochemicals LLC Welcomes New Area Business Manager to Support its Bio-Lubricants Business

CINCINNATI, OH, USA (Feb. 17, 2020) - Emery Oleochemicals, a world leading, natural-based specialty chemicals producer and the largest oleochemicals manufacturer in the Americas, is pleased to announce that Katie VanQuathem has joined its North American Specialties Sales Group as an Area Business Manager to support the company's Bio-Lubricants business. Ms. VanQuathem will be responsible for maintaining and growing the business with both existing and new customers focusing on key regions throughout the US.

Prior to joining Emery Oleochemicals LLC, she was a Regional Sales Manager with Vantage Specialty Chemicals. Ms. VanQuathem has extensive experience managing key accounts selling specialty chemicals and customized solutions to the lubricants, food, personal care and general industrial market segments. She holds BA degrees in Biology and in Business with a marketing concentration.

To learn about Emery's Bio-Lubricants product portfolio, visit: www.emeryoleo.com/bio-lubricants

